Taylor University has grown
since its birth in 1846.
Enhanced by new physical additions and an expanding population, it still remains true to its ideal—“Effectively Christian.”

The Taylor family is composed of a variety of individuals, ranging from freshmen anxious about their new college life to seniors eager to embark upon their future pursuits.

Old and new facilities,
in addition to enhancing the campus,
provide an environment
conducive to intellectual stimulation and maturity.

New recreational facilities, such as the campus lake, have been developed recently. Taylor recognizes that physical, as well as mental, growth is valuable.

An essential part of Taylor's growth, vital for producing a complete individual,
is spiritual fulfillment attained through sharing and through Christian fellowship.

A focal point of each year is Homecoming.
The new marching band,
an excellent football team,
and Queen Karen Yount,
along with colorful floats
and a record crowd, made the 1968 Homecoming memorable.

Growth...In Academics

Intellectual growth should be a natural result of higher education.

The academic program at Taylor is designed to produce this maturity of the mind.

Through exposure to many ideas and concepts, the student's outlook is broadened.

An intimate academic setting, in which the teacher-student ratio is 1 to 16, is conducive to knowledge, insight, and enthusiasm for intellectual excellence.

Division of Philosophy and Religion

The Division of Philosophy and Religion contains the departments of Greek, Philosophy, and Religion. This division provides training in Biblical literature, Christian education, philosophy, and related subjects so that the student's personal faith will be strengthened and his fellowship with God made richer.

The Division of Fine Arts' goals are to provide opportunities for students to come to an appreciation of the arts as well as an opportunity to express themselves through artistic expression. The departments of Art and Music strive to prepare students who are entering some field of the arts with substantial skills in their particular area.

Division of Fine Arts

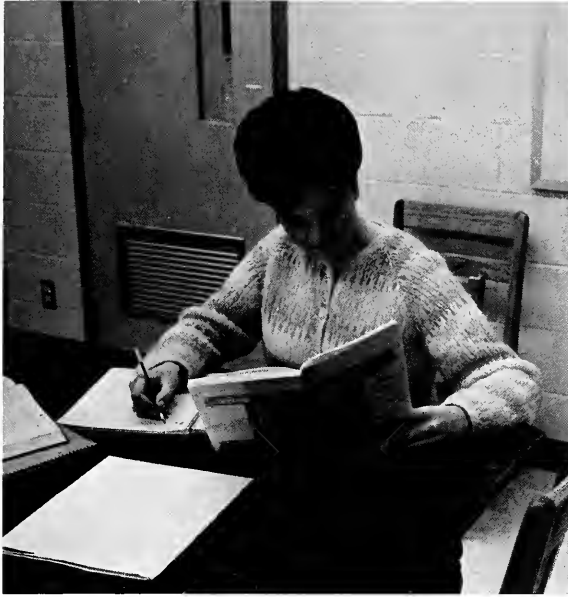

Division of Education

The Division of Education includes the departments of Education and Physical Education. The division assists the prospective teacher in the development of insights and skills necessary for entrance into the teaching profession. Another aim is to aid the student in developing and maintaining good physical and mental health.

The Division of Language and Literature includes the departments of English, Modern Language, and Speech. The aims of the division are to develop the student's ability in both spoken and written languages; to increase speed, comprehension, and critical ability in reading; to help students to appreciate great literature; and to prepare future teachers with a strong background in their field.

Division of Language and Literature

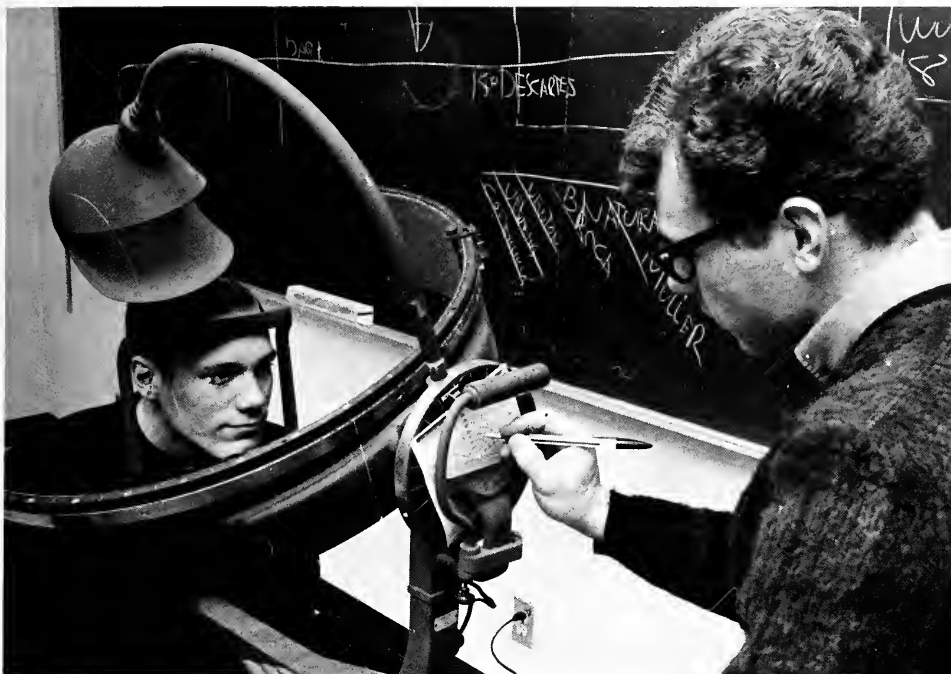

Division of Natural Sciences

The Division of Natural Science, including physical and life sciences as well as mathematics, pursues two main goals. First, the departments are concerned with instruction about specific facts and principles. Second, the various departments emphasize the development of basic scientific attitudes and traits.

Division of Social Sciences

In the Division of Social Sciences, the emphasis is on people. Through a study of history, geography, economics, political science, psychology, or sociology one is able to better understand the society in which he lives. Both the civilization and the individual become the objects of study; the relative importance of the past on the present and the future is a major consideration.

They are led by Dr. Hermanson of the Music Department and practice twice every week. Although there are relatively few men participating thus far, the group is looking forward to increasing their size and esteem. This year's performances have been in chapel, Sunday evening services, and other campus functions.

The Chamber Singers are a small madrigal group, which specializes in period music. They are fourteen members strong. The first semester was spent building up their repertoire, which includes classical numbers in the Renaissance and Baroque style as well as several contemporary numbers. The versatile group even sings and dances several folk dances. Second semester the Chamber Singers have traveled to area churches and several small colleges presenting their fine program.

The Taylor Community Orchestra played Handel's Messiah in concerts at Christmas and Easter. The chamber orchestra also provided accompaniment for a senior recital. Under the direction of Klaas Kuiper, the orchestra is composed of Taylor students and residents of surrounding communities.

The entertaining half-time shows of the marching band gave an added sparkle to home football games. As well as marching at football games, the band toured in April, giving programs in Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan high schools. The marching band was directed by Hr. Robert Boyd.

The marching band was enhanced by the majorette corps, led by Lorri Berends and Barb Lowden, and the pom-pom girls, under the direction of Carol Leipnitz.

1967-68 Echo Staffs

Keeping the students of Taylor University informed is the goal of the dedicated and hard-working Echo staff. That they have done a commendable job was confirmed by the awarding of a First Class Honor Rating by the Associated Collegiate Press. Interviewing newsmakers, fitting copy, making up pages, taking pictures, and writing editorials and stories keep the staff busy as they meet their weekly deadlines. At the ACP Convention in Chicago, members profited from the free exchange of ideas. Besides his duties as 1967 editor, Jay Comstock served as first vice-president of the Indiana Collegiate Press Association. A banquet honoring the retiring staff members was held at the close of the first semester.

Memories into Print

Located in the tiniest corner of Taylor's campus stands a small, green building that houses the yearbook office of the university. To this point gather some of the most creative, enthusiastic, diligent diehards in the entire student body. This group comprises the Ilium staff. To this body of devoted workers falls the task of putting together the 1968 yearbook. Combine picture taking, typing, thinking, writing, with a dash of frustration, anguish, sleeplessness, and never-ending meditation, and the result is a record book filled with memories—your own.

Growth...In Spiritual Life

For the Taylor student all growth is the result of one thing—
Jesus Christ in his life.

Taylor University is unique in that she places as much importance on the student's spiritual growth as on other aspects of his life.

Chapels, class prayer meetings,
wing Bible studies, Spiritual Emphasis week, Missionary Conference, Youth Conference, special lecture series, religious organizations—
these are all opportunities afforded Taylor students for spiritual growth.

University Installs First Pastor

The Rev. Peter Pascoe greets friends at the reception given in his honor.

The first full-time pastor of Taylor University became a reality with the appointment of the Reverend Peter Pascoe in September. The Reverend Pascoe came to Taylor from Buffalo, New York where he was the pastor of the Kenmore United Presbyterian Church. While a Taylor student in the 1930's, the Reverend Pascoe was one of the founders of the annual Youth Conference which has since become one of the major events of the college calendar. Pastor Pascoe is a very enthusiastic and sincere person and his influence has been widely felt in the Taylor community during this year.

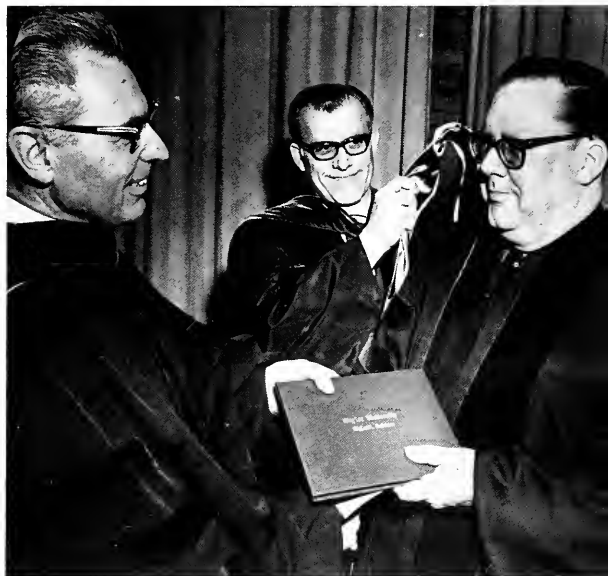

For the Rev. Mr. Pascoe, dignitaries conduct installation.

Series of Convocations

Aside from the spiritual influence in chapel we have had many important convocations. Among these were Matriculation Day, Public Affairs speakers and the conferring of an honorary degree to the Reverend Bernie Smith.

Prof. Sims sings at the Trustee-Student Chapel.

Youth Conference

The focal point of Taylor's spiritual activities was centered around the Youth Conference in the spring. The cabinet chose the theme, "Create In Me," from Psalm 51. The words and lyrics were composed by Nancy Goodwine, a Taylor senior. Working all year, the cabinet planned all phases of the Conference down to the last details. Bud Schaeffer and Ed Beck, two outstanding Christian athletes, challenged the 1000 conferees to become new creations in God's hands.

Ed Smythe, Prof. Hilda Steyer, and Wes Rediger pause during a cabinet meeting.

Long lunch lines were a common occurrence during Youth Conference.

Nancy Kitson, Don Whittaker, and Bob Wolgemuth assisted in making plans for Youth Conference.

Missionary Conference brings together Rev. Lentz, Don Dunkerton, Ambassadors president, and Dr. Ruelke.

Missions Conference

For the 1967 Missionary Conference, the theme was "Thy Word Giveth Light." Guests Dr. Winfield Ruelke, and Rev. James Lentz of World Gospel Mission shared the speaking responsibilities of the six sessions. Afternoon discussion groups and a large number of displays by representatives of mission boards added to the impact of the convention. As in previous years, the event was sponsored by the Ambassadors.

The Missionary Conference theme was conspicuously displayed on the gymnasium platform.

Many Taylor students took advantage of their opportunity to examine the displays and to talk with representatives.

The Personal Evangelism program involves service in three areas: Child Evangelism Fellowship, Children's Homes, and Old Folks Homes. The seventy-five Taylor students who participated in this were responsible for planning and presenting programs regularly. The missionary organization on Taylor's campus is Ambassadors. The organization sponsored the Missionary Conference. The annual projects chosen by Ambassadors for this year's conference were the purchase of a bus for a children's camp and radio transmitters for use in Africa. The theme for the conference was "Thy Word Giveth Light." Another one of their activities was a trip to Urbana for the Inter-Varsity Convention.

Taylor seeks to further establish its "Effectively Christian" motto through the program of Operation Outreach. The office of the University Pastor arranges for students to participate on gospel teams, to help in local YFC clubs, and to assume student pastorates.

TWO (Taylor World Outreach) is a new addition to Taylor's witness. It provides opportunities for students to serve in situations comparable to the mission field at home and abroad. Through these summer experiences, students are able to adjust to life on the field as well as to mature spiritually. This program plays another vital role in making the education of its students a thorough process.

The second group of last summer's Wandering Wheels pedal their way across the United States, sharing Christ through bikes.

Joe Brenneman, Betty Enchelmaier, Ruth Ann Justice, Beth Gromer, and Jim Danhoff served in several churches on one of Taylor's ten gospel teams.

Singing and making melody for Christ was another one of the gospel teams composed of Dick Pyle, Chuck Frazer, Diane Gorman, Dave Pyle, and Ken Snare.

Growth...In Social Life

“Getting to know you, getting to know all about you . . .”
is not only possible but also highly probable on Taylor’s friendly campus.
Acquaintances become friends after basketball games,
afternoons at the campus beach,
concerts by guest artists, and late hours
at Hector’s Hut.
Our college experience of living and working with people
leads to growth in our social lives.

Various programs were presented to provide Taylor students with cultural, as well as entertaining, experiences. Among those not pictured, were the Walt Whitman Series; folksinger Joan Goddard; Negro Spiritual singer Charles E. King, and Gerald Moore, the "Prince of Accompanists." Also provided for the students' enjoyment was the film series including "Flower Drum Song," "Shenandoah," "Failsafe," and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown." The student body found in these activities a welcome break from their studies.

Grand Opening of Hector's Hut

Early in the second semester, the grand opening of Hector's Hut was staged. Under the direction of Mr. David Klopfenstein, students worked throughout the first semester to convert the old greenhouse into a coffeehouse for Taylor students. The tropical decor is unique and effective in producing an informal atmosphere. Students enjoy socializing at Hector's Hut on weekend evenings, with entertainment being provided by such groups as The Patch of Blue.

This was the scene in the greenhouse before work began.

The platform area of Hector's Hut is tropically decorated.

Miss Marilyn Barr, senior, was crowned Sweetheart Queen.

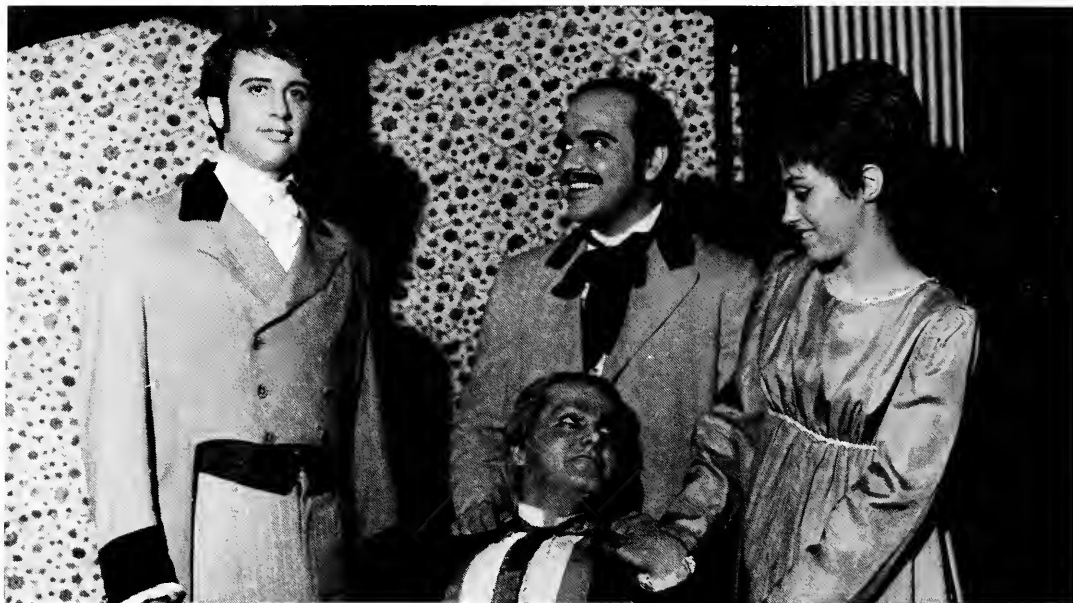

Banquets and Social Programs

An important part of the social life of the Taylor student is the banquets which are held each year. The fall and spring buffets were provided, as well as the Christmas Banquet with Folksinger Virgil Roth. In the spring semester were Gamma Delta Beta Sweetheart Banquet and the Junior-Senior Banquet. In addition to these, special programs were presented for the enjoyment of students and faculty.

Miss Beth Gromer performs at the Freshmen Talent Program.

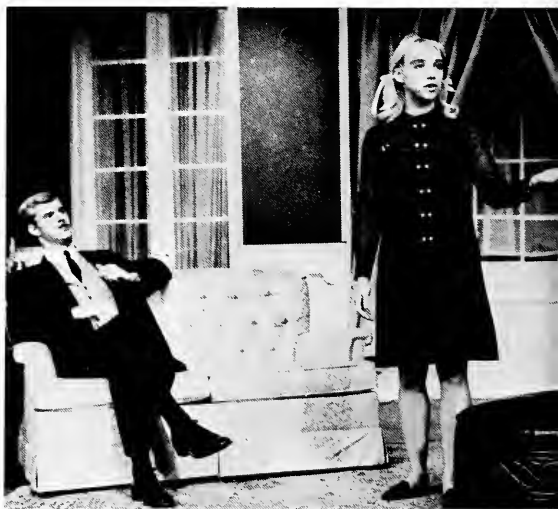

Musical and Dramatic Presentations

Marvin Bechtel, Richard Cory, Stan Ray, and Renita Sheesley assumed leading roles in Don Pasquale.

Don Pasquale, a comic opera in three acts, was presented by the Taylor music department in the fall semester. The plot centered mainly around the bachelor Don Pasquale's attempts at marriage. In the first dramatic production of the year, the Trojan Players and drama department presented The Potting Shed by Graham Greene. James Callifer (Dion Stevens) returned home just as his father was dying. His mother (Debby Daniel) refused to let him see his father and Callifer was alienated from his family and wife. The mystery unraveled as his teenage niece acted as detective so that he was eventually reunited with his family.

The Gamma Delta Beta Society acts as a social and service opportunity for the university co-ed. The symbols of the club representing love, beauty and service, describe the attributes which the Society member hopes to attain. Putting ideals into action, each member performs a certain amount of service for school and community, in addition to each chapter's initiating special projects. Included in their calendar of events are pledging programs, supplying Big Sisters for freshmen, sponsoring the Sweetheart Banquet and nominating members for the Sweetheart Queen, who must be a member of the Society.

One of the highlights of the social life on campus was the opening of Hector's Hut, Taylor's coffee house.

The season opened against a rather stubborn Wilmington team with the educated toe of Joe Romine deciding the game on a field goal in the last five minutes of play. Manchester, rated a thirteen point favorite, was stymied by the Trojan defense which intercepted three passes. In the Anderson game the limelight shifted to the offense as Dave Stouse and Bob Harms each scored two touchdowns. Led by Bruce Mughmaw's three interceptions and Dennis Ice's 60 yard run with a blocked field goal, the gridmen upset Georgetown. After a two point loss to I.C., the Trojans delighted an overflowing homecoming crowd to move atop the conference standings. This time Ron Johnson matched Bob Harms' two touchdown show. Franklin was next to succumb as Johnson scored three times and Val Stevens tossed two scoring passes to Dave Stouse. After a stinging defeat by Defiance, the Trojans closed a successful season by edging Albion with another Romine field goal.

The defense was spearheaded by the play of senior Mike Sonnenberg. It was often said that Mike spent more time in the opponents' backfields than did their own backs. Although losing ten valuable seniors, Taylor will field a fine team next year.

The Taylor netmen swept through nine matches without a loss and in the process, succeeded in capturing their third consecutive conference title. Taylor racketmen won 58 of 67 individual matches in an unprecedented show of talent.

Rookie Coach Bob Blume was a big factor in helping to retain the crown as conditioning played an important role in bringing victory. Paul Rork continued his domination of the tennis scene while popular Bruce Gee and Dan Keller closed their doubles career unbeaten in conference competition. Seniors Roy Flanary, Andy Dale, Glenn McCroskery, Gee, and Keller all left some fine tennis memories to look back on. Freshman Doug Dean provided a pleasant surprise while brother Dave combined with Rork to finish without a loss in doubles competition.

Next year the outlook is bright. No doubt the consistent winning will continue due to a factor Coach Blume labels a "fantastic team spirit."

Trojans Become A National Power

The Taylor University Cross-Country team reached new heights this year as it established itself as a national power. The goal of performing above average in the nationals was accomplished as the Trojans finished sixth in a powerful field.

Phil Captain led the Trojans to their third Invitational win in a row in record time. Following a decisive win at Earlham, the Trojans finished a strong second to last year's NAIA champion at Ashland. The Trojan harriers then beat Purdue as Captain set a course record. After copping the Little State title and making a strong showing in the Big State, the Trojans, led by Captain and Foote, won the conference meet. At Omaha Phil Captain merited All-American for his performance and Ralph Foote made a fine showing. The season was characterized by strong running on the part of the entire team. Spirit ran high and the "team" in cross-country was given new emphasis. As the Trojans lose one senior, the team could go on to even bigger and better things next year.

Trojan basketball provided lots of thrills and action-packed moments this year for its supporters. The season began on a winning note, went through a rough time due to injuries and sickness, then concluded on the victory side.

Chuck Taylor again led the offense as he averaged in the high twenties. He and Tom Dillon gave the Trojans an unbeatable backcourt due to a lot of long bombs and blazing fast breaks. Bill DeHorn came on at semester break to give the Trojans that good big man. Bill set a new record against Manchester with 32 rebounds. Gary Drill, whose free throws won the Taylor Tourney, was a big help on the boards and in the pivot. Sparkling the team when they were down was Steve "Kid" Oldham, who came on to be that tough sixth man. Garth Cone continued to stymie the opposition with his accurate shooting and fine defense, while Jack Baumgardner closed out his career by contributing some fine performances.

Although the Trojans will lose seniors Dillon, Baumgardner, and Odle, they will again be a threat next year.

B-Team Promise Points to a Bright Future

Skinner goes up for his favorite shot.

The B-Team picked up where last year's team left off by proving that they could win consistently. Coach Blume's charges played an exciting brand of basketball by displaying some hot shooting and a relentless defense. Gary Rickner and Doug Dean provided some exciting moments with their percentage shooting, lightning fast breaks, and tenacious defense. Merrill Skinner showed promise with his good shooting and strong rebounding. Jerry Wortz and Rich Stryker, holdovers from last year's team, gave the enemy lots of trouble on the boards. Jim Messner, brought many a fan to his feet with his accurate shooting, while Larry Wall, Larry Cooper, and Ken Bocken gave the team that strong bench that a good team needs. Denny Roach, Al Jackson, and Dan Gordon rounded out a well-balanced ball club.

Once again a few of the boys visited British Columbia to witness, and play ball. The trip was very profitable and proved to be a time of growth in skills and spirit. With the performances of these fellows the varsity can look to a bright future.

Wrestlers Pin Down Fourth Place

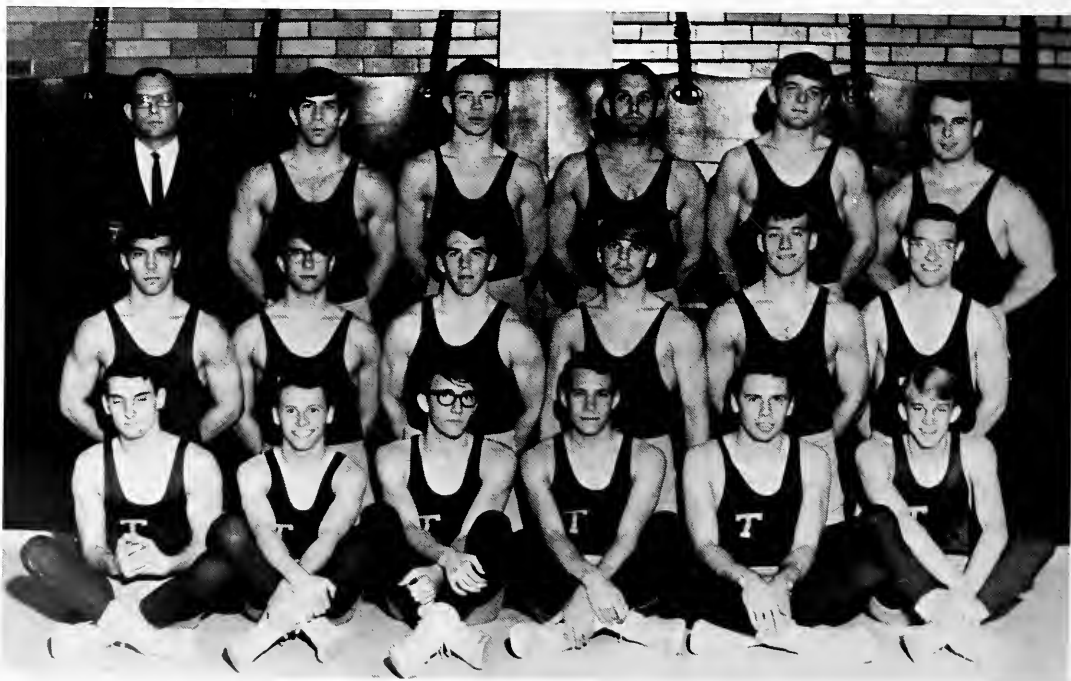

The Trojan grapplers found the going tougher as the season progressed in 1968. With a young experienced team on the mats, the Trojans had high hopes for a conference title. However, the matmen were dealt two decisive blows to these hopes when Doug Whittaker went out with a back injury for the year and Tom Linder was injured right before the conference meet. Both were tops in their weight classes. Although they recorded no firsts, the Trojans showed a lot of hustle and determination at the conference meet. Phil Arnold wrestled to a second at 123; Steve Dicks took third at 130; Steve Jeffrey wrapped up a fourth at 160; Rich Muller, perhaps the most improved wrestler on the team, brought home a third at 167; Dick Gray took second at 177; and Larry Dillon was runner-up in his 191 lb. class.

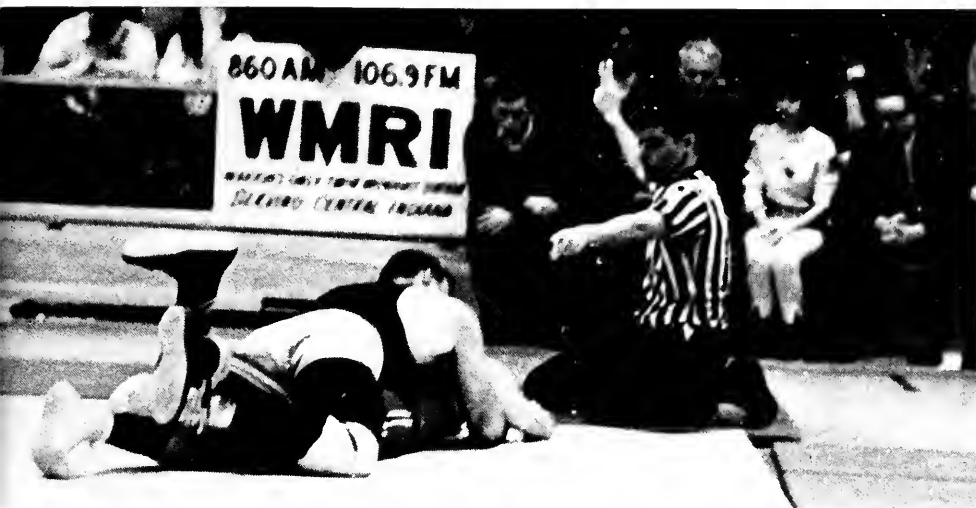

The outlook for next season is very bright. Every man will be returning—each one determined and confident. Watch out for the 1969 Trojans. They have a "score to settle."

Attention is riveted on the action on the field.

The 1967 edition of Taylor Baseball was the finest ever recorded by Trojan diamondmen. The team batted an astounding .286 while the pitching staff surrendered just 2.67 runs per game. After a slow start the Trojans found the groove and reeled off 25 consecutive victories. This brought them their second straight conference crown and the district championship. The Trojans were just one game short of the national tourney when they lost the area N.A.I.A. to Eastern Michigan.

Randy Mohler, voted the most valuable player, led the team with 35 R.B.I.'s and a .427 mark. Rich Atkinson, Dwight Johnson, and Mike Mancini added good support by batting well over .300.

Keith Doudt led a strong mound crew with 46 strikeouts and a 1.36 E.R.A. Jim Swaney and Mike Wilson had identical 6-0 records, while allowing the opposition less than three runs per game. Mike Pompili, Steve Lomax, Garth Cone, and Ken Bocken contributed strong bullpen performances.

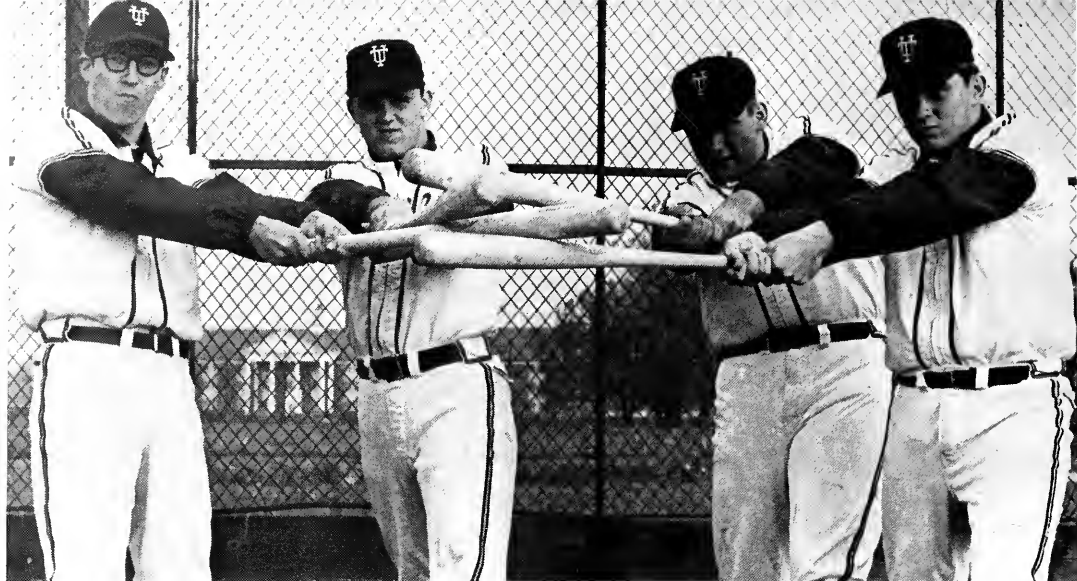

With all but Mancini, Doudt, and Wilson returning the 1968 Trojans can look forward to a good season. The schedule will include a tough southern trip again, and such new teams as Central Michigan, Butler, and Xavier. By the end of May the Trojans have the potential to find themselves participating in their first national tournament.

The Intramural Story

The intramural program plays a vital role in many male students' lives at Taylor. Much of the enthusiasm built up in the men's residence halls is due to participation in one of many sports. These include flag-football, tennis, cross-country, canoeing, basketball, badminton, volleyball, softball, golf, and track. Through these activities the men release tension, make new friendships (for some, enemies), and for those who take it seriously reenact competition on the varsity level. Team organization is taken seriously. Uniforms in part are put together and one team even went so far as to hold a skull session and chalk talk before a big game the following day.

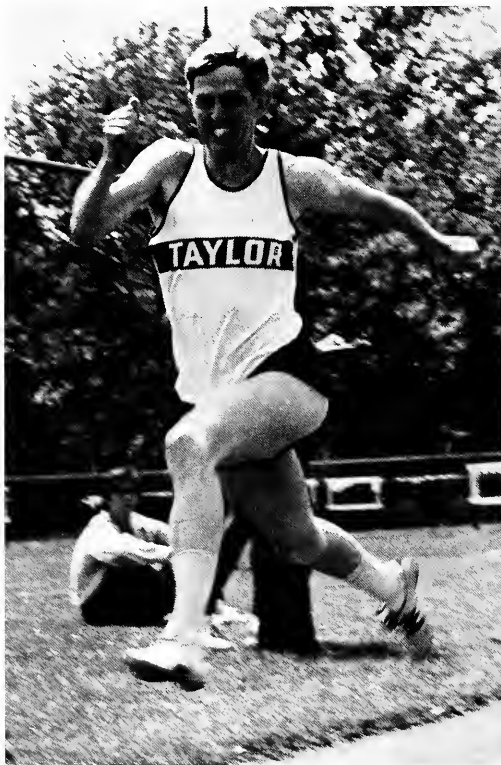

According to Coach Gary Jones the idea behind intramurals was to make the players "participants rather than spectators." Records of team performances were charted, playoffs conducted, and an overall champion determined at the close of the year. Participating teams competed in units from wings and floors of each dormitory, while the commuters and shack-dwellers completed the list of teams. Some of their names were: The Association, Lobos, Panthers, Trippers, Lynx, Clique, Speed Merchants, Stones, Beaver Patrol, Spider Riders, and Moby Grape to name a few.

Frykholm's flying form in triple jump.

The Trojan thinclads won their third H.C.C. championship in the last 4 years in 1967. Garnering six first places while setting records in four of these, the Trojans showed good strength in all events to post the greatest margin of victory in four years.

Last year's freshman Tim Cole led the squad with victories in the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, and ran on the second place mile relay and 440 yard relay teams. He set a new conference record of 22.1 in the 220.

Phil Captain won the 2-mile with a record setting 9:29.1, and finished second in the mile. Also winning in the running events was junior Bill Parman, conference record holder in the high hurdles. The 440-yard relay team, though finishing second, set a new school record.

In the field events pole vaulter Larry Howard soared 14 ft. 6½ in. for a first and another conference record. Howard went on to place second in the high jump. Gary Dennis capped the afternoon with a 206 ft. 1¾ in. javelin toss to set a fourth conference record.

With only five seniors in 1968 the Trojans will be young but will have depth. There is a good deal of strength in the running events for a change, and five of last year's first place winners return. A bright point in the Taylor program is the scheduling of both the Little State and the Conference meets on Taylor's new rubberized asphalt track.

1967 proved to be one of the finest the Taylor golf team has ever had. The linksmen finished third for its best conference showing in 17 years, losing out only to Hanover by 19 strokes and Manchester by six strokes. Mr. Ernest Valutis coached the team while Coach Odle was on leave, and made his rookie debut a success. With plenty of good shooters returning in Larry Backlund, Jon Schubert, and Dave Odle along with some promising freshmen, the Trojans can look forward to a good season in 1968.

T-Club

The goal of every Taylor letterman is to become a member of the T-Club—Taylor's Club for athletes. Pledges may join after surviving a rigorous initiation which includes allowing themselves to be sold as slaves. As a club these athletes perform several services for the school, including serving as ushers in Sunday evening services and setting up chairs for Chapel. These athletes also sponsor such events as a Halloween Party and other social functions. T-Club members play a major role in the election of the Sweetheart Queen.

Growth of Personalities

We travel, we look around,
we notice many strange new things.
We laugh,
we cry, we fear, we hope for the years to come.
We are people,
people are strange, people are unforgettable,
people are unique.
Taylor is fun, Taylor is special,
Taylor is unforgettable.
We are aware, we are feeling, we are people, we . . . are Taylor.

As the administrative vice president he shares in the total university administration with the president.

Dr. Dorsey Brause, Associate Dean, has a three-fold position. He is in charge of the federal relations which includes all federal aid. It is his duty to apply for federal funds and to write proposals. Secondly, he takes care of relations outside the institution with private foundations. Finally, he is in charge of the summer school program which has new and promising plans for the future. Included in this stage are the chapel auditorium, library, and student union buildings to be completed by 1971 for Taylor's one-hundred twenty fifth anniversary.

The main contributors to the Taylor program are alumni, business, industry, and other friends. The department also has a program called "friend raising" in which they try to stimulate the interest of groups and individuals by entertaining them through campus activities. They seek to communicate to these friends the kind of school Taylor is, what it represents, and what it is presently accomplishing.

This year many projects have been integrated into the environment including a film series, remodeling of the student center, and transforming the old greenhouse into a coffeehouse called Hector's Hut. Student Union also encourages students with special interests by sponsoring a ski trip to Wisconsin and a shopping and sight-seeing trip to Chicago.

As director, Mr. Klopfenstein spends much time discussing the interests of students and faculty and making them a reality. He also observes other college programs and acts as adviser to the Student Union Committee which is student organized and student oriented. He is pastor not only to the student body but to the faculty and staff as well. Honor Student Recognized

Jere Truex is the first student to go through Taylor University while in an iron lung. Jere has accomplished this feat by means of an intercom system which is monitored by either students or professors.

Jere and his family, including two sisters, moved to Upland nine and a half years ago. During this time Jere went to Jefferson Township High School, also by means of an intercom system.

At Taylor his course of study included a major in Business Administration with minors in psychology and math. He also took correspondence courses from I. U. Despite various problems that Jere had to face during his four years at Taylor, he completed his college career as an honor student and a member of Who's Who.

His special interests include sports, in particular football, current events and politics. Jere is a confessed radical Republican.

Future plans for Jere include graduate school and after that . . . who knows what heights he may achieve.

WHO'S WHO

Ken Bell
Julie Broman

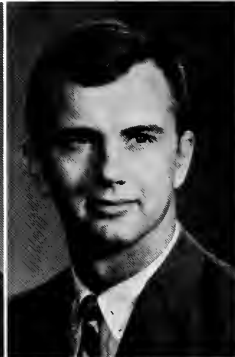

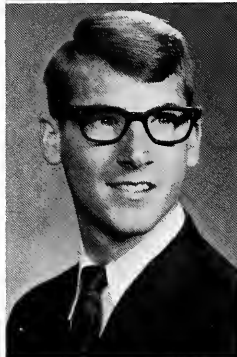

Jay Comstock
Fitzgerald Cook

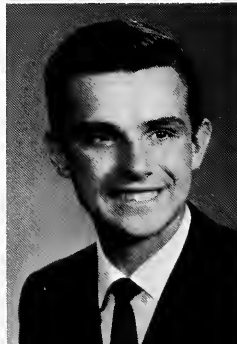

This year twenty-four Taylor seniors were selected to appear in the 1967 edition of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Taylor is one of the eight hundred schools which participate each year in the nominations.

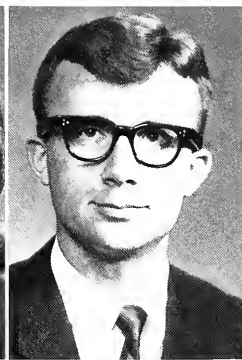

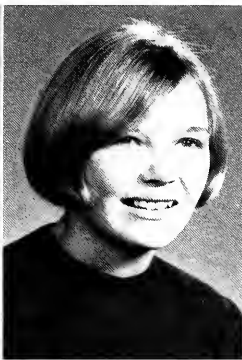

The names of qualified seniors are compiled by a faculty council and submitted to the Student Affairs Committee. Following this procedure the committee makes the final selection of students who will represent the university in Who's Who. Final nominations are based on the individual's scholarship attainment, personality and character, leadership qualities in outside activities, and potential success in his chosen career.
